God's Perfect Poem

When God speaks, writes or creates anything it is undeniably, infallibly perfect. This includes you. Despite negative life experiences that would have you believe you're not beautiful, smart, pure, worthy of love, God says otherwise. You are His perfect poem, engraved on the palms of His hands. Hearing this talk will encourage you to:

- Let go of false perceptions of who you are so you can live the life God intends.
- Embrace the extent of God's love in creating you.
- See yourself as God sees you despite the sins of your past.

What You Name a Thing

"Sticks and stones may break my bones, but words will never hurt me." NOT!

The truth is apart from God's wisdom words can hurt and destroy, but with His wisdom they can heal and deliver. What you name a thing defines it and has the power to shape its future. In this talk you will learn to:

- Define yourself by God's Word and not the painful words or actions of others.
- Replace brokenness with blessings through an accurate understanding of who God says you are.
- Apply Jesus' strategy for defeating Satan's use of words to deceive and displace you.

Blessed is She Who has Believed

The devil puts a lot of effort in getting you to doubt God's word. His lies are designed to rob you of your joy, authority and identity. However, the Bible overflows with God's promises that refute Satan's distortions – the ultimate promise being Jesus. By taking a closer look at the three core truths that shaped Jesus' life, you will have the opportunity to:

- Discover who you are and what you've been given through the revelation of Christ.
- Accept the identity and special talents God gave you to influence the culture.
- Stop living in the shadows and begin using your gifts and talents to be a light in the world.

"When Alicia speaks she has a way to stir up the things of God in me. She says what needs to be said, but does it with the love of the Lord. She is a person who builds up people and adds great value to them."

-Maggie Jimenez
